Foreword

The 1954 STAGE COACH Staff of Saint Mary's Junior College presents with pleasure this annual to the students of our beloved alma mater. We sincerely hope that in the future when you look at your STAGE COACH you will remember Saint Mary's as the school where life revolves around honesty, friendship, and integrity. Saint Mary's will always be a part of our lives, and its spirit will follow us in later years.

Smedes Hall

Cheshire Hall

The students of St. Mary's Junior College wish to express their sincere appreciation to those who have made possible the erection of our new science building, Cheshire Hall. We are very proud of this lovely addition to St. Mary's campus and will endeavor to preserve its beauty.

Dedication

As advisor to the Senior Class and to the Honor Council, she has guided us patiently and understandingly through this year at Saint Mary's. Her friendliness and cheerfulness make her an essential part of life here at school.

It is with deepest pleasure, gratitude, and love that we dedicate the STAGE COACH of 1954 to

MISS KATHERINE MORRIS

Saint Mary's Alma Mater

Saint Mary's! wherever thy daughters may be
They love thy high praises to sing,
And tell of thy beauties of campus and tree
Around which sweet memories cling;
They may wander afar, out of reach of thy name,
Afar out of sight of thy grove,
But the thought of Saint Mary's aye kindles a flame
Of sweet recollections and love.

Beloved Saint Mary's! How great is our debt!
Thau has cared far thy daughters full well;
They can never thy happy instructions forget,
Nor fail of thy virtues to tell.
The love that they feel is a heritage pure,
An experience wholesome and sweet.
Through the fast rolling years it will grow and endure,
Be a lamp and a guide to our feet.

May the future unite all the good of thy past
With the best that new knowledge can bring.
Ever onward and upward thy course! To the last
Be thou steadfast in every good thing.
Generations to come may thy fair daughters still Fondly think on thy halls and thy grave
And carry thy teachings — a'er woodland and hill —
Of earnestness, wisdom, and love.

Administration

RICHARD G. STONE
President

A.B., Western Maryland College; Ph.D., The Johns Hopkins University; L.H.D., Western Maryland College. Saint Mary's, 1946.

Sincere, selfless, steadfast. These words symbolize Dr. Stone. In time of our need, he is helpful; in time of our trouble, understanding. His true friendship and guiding hand have supported us throughout our years at St. Mary's.

MARTHA DABNEY JONES

Dean

The high ideals of our dean in future times of indecision will direct us toward finer ways of life. Her lofty principles will remain embodied in us wherever we are. She is our guiding star.

ISRAEL HARDING HUGHES
Chaplain

His cheerful greetings and inspiring words have enabled us to be steadfast in our courage, patient in our daily dealings, and firm in our beliefs. His home is always open to us and his warm hospitality is something we shall never forget.

Class Prophecy

May 29, 1975

MISS ELIZABETH WILLIAMS
Alumnae Secretary
Saint Mary's Junior College
Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear "Gigi,"

As you know, earlier in the spring most of the members of the class of 1954 made a pilgrimage to Saint Mary's. We thought you might be interested in knowing some facts about our ex-classmates so that you can have something to put in the Bulletin about our class.

It all started when Lorrie Clark, famed lecturer and traveler, left Siam after a few weeks stay to head toward Saint Mary's where her daughter, Huberta, is a student. She planned to go via India, North Africa, and Western Europe. As soon as she disembarked in Calcutta, she heard through Martha Barber's agents that the latter was in Delhi attempting to sell her latest invention to increase rice production. When they got together, Martha decided to join her on their pilgrimage. By the time they had reached Saint Mary's, they had seen almost all the members of the class of '54 and had persuaded many of them to join them on their journey.

Lorrie and Martha found Mela Royall, Foreign Minister to Afghanistan, in the American Embassy at Kabul with her Secretary, Jessine Hart. Mela had already been foreign minister to many other countries, but the United States Government always keeps her in the most strategic area. A few weeks earlier Mela and Jessine had seen Frances Stubinger and Alma Weston in the harem of a reknown Indian Prince. Jessine notified them about the pilgrimage, but due to circumstances beyond their control, they were unable to join the merry throng. Our able foreign minister wired Susan Hayes and Trissy Holt in the oil fields of Arabia about the journey. The two multimillionaires had been having a difficult time trying to convince the Arabians that the oil there belonged to them, but they were then ready to return to the States.

The next person the group met was Jeanette Uzzell who was attempting to swim down the Suez; she had crossed the English Channel the preceding year in record time. She told Lorrie and the others that Gray Proctor and Dr. Harriett Conger were both in South Africa. Gray was fulfilling her ambition to go to Africa and was finding additions for her animal collection. Harriett, wife of a prominent witch doctor, was assisting her husband in a search for new herbs for medicines.

From Egypt they went to Greece where they encountered Mary Jordan and Connie Shaner making a detailed study of the classics. Much to their disappointment and surprise the English department at Saint Mary's had taught them all there was to know; therefore they joined the group. Next they traveled to Rome where Sibby Callaway and Nancy Glenn had retired, leaving Myra Thayer in charge of their New York establishment. The two Neo-Romans spent their leisure studying contemporary Italian dress styles. They condescended to join the pilgrimage on the condition that they stop by Fifth Avenue to give Myra the latest fashion news. While in Rome they read in the Roman Internationale, edited by Pat Perry, that Barbara Seaman, archeologist, had discovered in Florence an intricate plan of Dante's cosmology for his Divine Comedy. After congratulating Pat on her excellent editorial about Barbara they persuaded her to enter the group.

From Rome the former classmates journeyed to Florence where they spent four days trying to convince Barbara that she should leave her work and go with them. The archeologist said no but told them to look for Liz Holmes, Virginia Harriss, and Pat Adams who were spending their vacation on the Riviera. When the increasing group arrived at Nice, they found Liz, Virginia, and Pat having coffee at a side-walk cafe. These two, bored with the Riviera eagerly accepted an invitation to go on the pilgrimage.

Their next stop was Paris. Atop the Eiffel Tower they found Leslie Hall sketching life on the Left Bank. She could not go with them because she had an appointment the following Monday with the president of France, whose portrait she was painting. However, she did inform them that Liddy Cullen and Anne Nichols were in the "parfum" business in Paris. The group went to the elite "shoppe," which is the home of custom-made "parfum." They consented to go with them.

Upon their arrival in the City on the Thames, Charlotte Lilly, Mary Windley Dunn, Timmy Timmons, and Frances Perry informed the pilgrims that Mary Clayton and Sallie Cowles were doing Missionary work in Iceland in preparation for writing their next book, Living With the Eskimos in Iceland. The quartet had flown over to London with their husbands for an international medical convention. We understand that Timmy and Frances were so busy reminiscing about their days at Saint Mary's that no one else could get a word in edgewise. Consequently, Charlotte and Mary Windley went out for a spot of tea and window-shopping. The group couldn't persuade the four home-makers to join them; thus they set sail for the States without them.

On their ship, the M.D.J., were members of the United States Olympic team. This team included four of the world's best hockey players, Dill Walker, Allan Hardin, Nancy Russell, and Laura Ann Travis. Another alumna aboard was Carolyn Nelson who had just beaten Babe Zaharias in the battle on the tuft for the Woman's Golf Championship of the world. Our ex-classmates told us that they were delightfully entertained on the ship by the golden voice of Marilyn Hedrick, who now records for M.G.M., and by Ellen Ozon, the tap-dancing wonder of Miami and the rest of the sunny south. The latter is now playing the lead in Warner Brothers' latest production.

Before the port call at Boston, the pilgrims had wired Sara Cobb and Kay Baker to meet them at the dock. When these two met the party, they told the travelers about their newest enterprise—Cobb's Cashmeres. Kay assists Sara in her handmade sweaters. This duo readily joined the ever-increasing group.

The next stop was New York, where Nancy and Sibby went to see Myra. Myra told them about the success of Linda Garriss' and Allene Wellons' Steak House in Greenwich Village and suggested having a party there. When the tourists checked in at the Waldorf-Astoria, they were surprised to learn that Joan Johnson and Alice Ann Winfield were the managers. They informed the group that the finalists in the International Bridge Contest, Nancy Eversman, Jane Gillette, Janet Rattray, and Cynthia Bradley, were staying at the hotel. The next night a grand reunion followed.

From New York the group progressed to Washington, where they learned that Pearl Smith was having one of her fabulous parties. She invited the group, so that they could meet the influential people in the Capitol City. To their delight, they saw at the party Frances Spain, Speaker of the House. Before they left Washington, they ran into Carolyn Baldridge, Ann Martin, and Sharlene Howard who had made the trip to plead a special case before a congressional committee concerning the welfare of their Texas dude ranches.

The wayfarers finally reached their destination, Saint Mary's in Raleigh, North Carolina. Going up the steps of Smedes they bumped into Mary Grady Burnette, who had left her country estate in Garner long enough to attend the big event. Mary Grady had notified Scottie Anderson, housemother at Carolina, that the group was coming, and Scottie was there to greet them. Lynda Anderson flew in from Detroit, where she and her husband are in the automobile industry. As they walked into the Saint Mary's parlor, Mary Lee LaFar, hostess, greeted them in the traditional Hornback manner. She insisted on taking them to the office of the recently-elected president, Doctor Libby Patman, who extended the pilgrims an unusually cordial welcome due to the fact that she was relieved to abandon her necessary stiff and formal ways.

"Gigi," we feel that we've done our best. Take it from here.

Incoherently yours,
ALICE BOST
ANN FREEMAN

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1954, being of rundown bodies and overworked minds, leaving Saint Mary's with regret in our hearts because we are leaving the place which holds many precious memories, now bequeath the following articles in the manner named below.

ARTICLE I

To Dr. Stone we leave a thousand thanks for understanding our problems and for the help he has so willingly given us.

To Miss Jones we leave our sincere appreciation for her careful guidance and for her interest in each individual.

To Miss Morris we leave our gratitude for advising us in all our class activities and for being with us whenever we needed her most.

To the rest of the faculty we leave our hope that we have not disappointed them and a resolution that we will do our best to follow the paths which they have tried to show us.

ARTICLE II

I, Pat Adams, leave my popularity with boys to Frances Capehart, who seems to be doing right well along that line.

I, Ann Scott Anderson, bequeath my radiant blushes to Martha Cood.

I, Lynda Anderson, will my daydreams now that they shall be realized to anyone who needs the diversion.

I, Kay Baker, bequeath my struggles with Saint Mary's dances to the unfortunate chief dance marshal of '54-'55.

I, Carolyn Baldridge, leave my Mexican-bean-like personality to Alma Skinner.

I, Martha Barber, will my ability to ask questions to Lillian Whitmer.

I, Cynthia Bradley, will my scatterbrains to Grace Boney.

I, Mary Grady Burnette, bequeath my sweet disposition to third Sinedes east.

I, Sibby Callaway, will my cares and worries with Saint Mary's.

I, Lorrie Clark, leave my sensible manner to Ruth Watkins.

I, Mary Clayton, will my Southern drawl to sister Sarah.

I, Sara Cobb, bequeath my frantiness to Sue Jones.

I, Harriett Conger, leave my medicinal abilities to Miss Manget.

I, Sallie Cowles, will my long hair to Harriett Madrc.

I, Liddy Cullen, leave my ability to change boy friends often to Sylvia Turner.

I, Mary Windley Dunn, bequeath the position of STAGE COACH editor to the Lirds!

I, Nancy Eversman, leave my musical talents to Nancy Jones.

I, Robin Fuller, will my freedom as a day student to all the Loaders.

I, Linda Garriss, bequeath my ability to know all and tell all to whoever will listen.

I, Jane Gillett, leave St. Mary's to go to good old Davidson.

I, Nancy Glenn, bequeath my earnestness to Jane Walker.

I, Gwen Crizzard, leave for Peru.

We, Allene Wellons and Leslie Hall, leave all the Duke PiKA's, but two, to next year's crop of St. Mary's girls.

I, Allan Hardin, will my love for bridge to Priscilla Swindell.

I, Virginia Harriss, leave my ardent determination to anybody who has the time to use it.

I, Jessie Hart, will my citizenship to Kathy Whitfield.

I, Susan Hayes, bequeath my individuality to the faculty.

I, Marilyn Hedrick, will my sweetness to Margot Hammond.

I, Elisabeth Holmes, leave my originality to the future Saint Mary's girls.

I, Trissy Holt, bequeath my dancing ability to DotDee Jones.

I, Sharlene Howard, leave the classroom for the Chapel and married life.

I, Joan Johnson, bequeath my neatness to the next occupant of 201 Holt.

I, Mary Jordan, will my tolerance for birds to Virginia Lilly.

I, Mary Lee LaFar, bequeath my giggle to Mary Ruth Mitchell.

I, Charlotte Lilly, will my calmness in any situation to all Saint Mary's girls. They can use it.

I, Anne Martin, bequeath my quiet manner to Carol Nichols.

I, Carolyn Nelson, leave my subscription to the Pinehurst Outlook to Saint Mary's.

I, Anne Nichols, will my dependability to Beth Kemper.

I, Ellen Ozon, leave my love for Florida to Judy Liggett.

I, Libby Patman, leave my love for being in Christmas parades to Nancy Smith; on second thought, maybe I'd better take it with me.

I, Frances Perry, will my ability to cope with the Senior Class to next year's Senior Class president (poor girl!).

I, Pat Perry, bequeath my love for Davidson week ends to Jane Wrike.

I, Linda Piland, leave the Day Students' Room with pleasure.

I, Cray Proctor, will my nonchalance to Ann Nimocks.

I, Janet Rattray, bequeath my wit to Frances Dawson.

I, Mela Royall, will my intellect to Lane Welsh.

I, Nancy Russell, leave my rock-quarry (i.e. bed) to whoever is unfortunate enough to get it.

I, Barbara Seaman, will my large economy-size bottle of aspirin to next year's Belles editor.

I, Connie Shaner, bequeath my conscientiousness to Elizabeth Arthur.

I, Pearl Smith, leave my language books behind with great delight.

I, Frances Spain, bequeath my love of math to Bunny Cee.

I, Frances Stuhinger, leave the Saint Mary's library for good.

I, Myra Thayer, leave my private telephone to West Rock.

I, Timmie Timmons, leave my contradiction and exaggerations to anyone who wants to puzzle everyone around.

I, Laura Ann Travis, bequeath my athletic energy to the night watchman.

I, Jeanette Uzzell, leave the swimming pool for Asheville parties.

I, Dill Walker, leave the post office to Lee Kohlsaat.

I, Alma Weston, leave Saint Mary's as confused as I was the day I walked in.

I, Cigi Williams, leave the "hired help" for good.

I, Alice Ann Winfield, bequeath my seat in the refrigerator to some rising Senior Eskimo.

We, the testators, Bost and Freeman leave serene in the face of destruction and in hopes that our document will cause no hard feelings.

We, the testators, representing the Senior Class, do hereby appoint the capable and honorable faculty to administer this, our last will and testament, on this twenty-ninth day of May, 1954.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

In only a few years now you will be establishing your own home — somewhere.

Will you settle somewhere else or come back home?

Before you decide, be sure to look around carefully at the advantages of the Carolinas — the opportunities for a full and profitable life — the chance to live and work in a growing and progressive area and to help build an even finer Carolina in the years ahead!
